Email of thanks re Macmillan Cancer event

I wish to thank the PC for the generous support given to the Macmillan event. After taking on this event I was told that it was held dear by the community and whilst asking around for volunteers this showed true. It is a popular meet up for the village. I laid out 40 places at tables and at one point these were all filled and with 11 volunteers standing too. The atmosphere was friendly and it was good to see so many familiar faces to chat with.

The generosity of the villagers with baking contributions and turning up to spend money for this good cause gives me hope that we can continue with this event with the apparent goodwill of Hawstead villagers.
